

Nathaniel S. Edwards, Ph.D.

IP Counsel, Biogen

Nathan Edwards is IP Counsel at Biogen, where he establishes and executes IP strategies for a portfolio of biologics at all stages of research and development, including a blockbuster treatment for multiple sclerosis.

Nathaniel S. Edwards, Ph.D.

IP Counsel, Biogen
225 Binney Street
Cambridge, MA 02142-1123

Bar and Court Admissions

Massachusetts
U.S. District Court, Massachusetts
U.S. Court of Appeals, Veterans Claims
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office

Education

Harvard University
J.D., magna cum laude, 2008
Ph.D., Biology, 2004
A.B./A.M., Biology, magna cum laude, 1998

Dr. Edwards has drafted and prosecuted patent applications in the fields of immunology, oncology, neurology, muscular disorders, diagnostics, and pharmaceutical formulations and has experience in pre-trial, trial, and post-trial proceedings in patent litigation relating to biologics, biological research tools, pharmaceuticals, and cancer diagnostics. He has experience in due diligence, freedom-to-operate, patent landscape, and patentability evaluations.