

In the United States Court of Federal Claims

No. 11-84 C

LIBERTY AMMUNITION, INC.

JUDGMENT

THE UNITED STATES

Pursuant to the court's Opinion and Order, filed December 19, 2014, finding that the claims in the '325 patent are valid and directly infringed by the M855A1 and the M80A1, and directing the entry of judgment pursuant to Rule 54(b), there being no just reason for delay,

IT IS ORDERED AND ADJUDGED this date, pursuant to Rule 58, that plaintiff is awarded $15,617,533.68 in damages, as of April 30, 2013. Plaintiff is entitled to interest for delayed compensation at the 5-year Treasury note rate from July 6, 2010, compounded semi-annually, until the date the judgment is actually paid. Within 90 days of the close of each of the government's fiscal years after April 30, 2013, the government shall provide a royalty report to plaintiff accounting for the number of infringing rounds ordered and delivered, and 30 days thereafter shall make a royalty payment to plaintiff for those rounds at a rate of $0.014 per round. This further obligation shall terminate when the patent expires on October 20, 2027.
